COLOR SONG

WRITTEN BY CLARENCE A. MURCH. TUNE "FAIR HARVARD"

Afar in the west where the green valleys run,
And the sweeping hills dip to the plain;
Rise the gray storied walls of the home that we love—

Alma Mater! We hail thee again!
'Neith thy shade we have gazed over valley and plain

On the scenes that enrapture the eye;
And our hearts thrill with pride as the Blue and the Gold

Proudly floats 'gainst the evening sky.

Oh, proud be thy future, enduring thy fame
As the years on swift current roll by;
Never dimmed be the luster that banner bespeaks
That now floateth so proudly on high.

Thy sons and thy daughters for Truth and the Right

Stand ever till time shall grow old;
Entwined 'round their hearts with dear memory's chains,
The loved banner of Blue and of Gold.

Then raise we our voices on pinions of song,
Alma Mater, thy praises to sing;
Through the years as they come and the years
as they go,

May thy glories enduringly ring.
And the colors that stand for Truth and for Worth

Still float as the years are unrolled;
And we'll cherish, wherever we wander on earth,

Our loved banner of Blue and of Gold.

Nebraska, seen on both sides of center. Scene of the Overland and Oregon Trail of the gold seekers of '49. City of Kearney and Normal School in background at extreme left.

THE BLUE AND GOLD

WRITTEN BY CLARENCE A. MURCH. AIR "VIVE LA ARMOUR"

Come cheerful companions, your voices unite,
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!
 The beautiful banner that gladdens our sight,
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!
 Then here's to our colors, the fairest and best,
 And here's to our Normal, the pride of the West!
 Here's to the Blue,
 Here's to the Gold,
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!

Then cherish the banner that blazons our way,
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!
 Our loved Alma Mater forever and aye!
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!
 Then here's to our colors, the fairest and best,
 And here's to our Normal, the pride of the West!
 Here's to the Blue,
 Here's to the Gold,
 Here's to the Blue and Gold!
